To whom it may concern,

As the Director for Education in Pembrokeshire I am fully support of the Y Cross Inn project which will enable the development of a community hub that supports the development of lifelong learning and skills through the use of IT for school aged learners and to develop IT skills within the community. This is of great benefit to all people wishing to learn new skills living in the area. The development of a community hub approach which will enable the following principles developing:

- The Welsh language
- Health and wellbeing
- Financial hardship for a rural area
- Environmental issues
- Continuous learning
- The community
- Sustainable Development

is of course all congruent with the principles of delivering the work of the local authority and we would wish to support this community development.
